

Morae Expands RelativityOne Offering to Australia

Morae today announced the expansion of its global e-discovery platform with the addition of RelativityOne in Australia.

SYDNEY, NSW, AUSTRALIA, May 6, 2024

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Morae Global Corporation ("Morae"), the global leader in digital and business solutions for a constantly changing legal industry, today announced the expansion of its global e-discovery platform with the addition of Relativity's cloud-based e-discovery product, RelativityOne, in Australia. With RelativityOne, Morae can innovate faster with a flexible and extensible cloud platform that provides an intuitive user experience backed by the power of automation and integrated artificial intelligence.

“As the Australia economy has grown - recently becoming the twelfth largest in the world - demand has grown within the Australian legal industry for a powerful solution to address fast evolving global requirements for e-discovery,” said Brian Flack, Senior Managing Director at Morae. “For our Morae Australia business, RelativityOne was a natural choice as the world’s de facto standard for document review, including considerable customizability to address the unique jurisdictional needs of our Australian clients.”

Chris Davis, Managing Director at Morae Asia Pacific added, “Locally we have found many of our clients increasingly engaging with Morae across a broader array of solutions, including tapping into our global best-in-class platform for e-discovery. The new RelativityOne hosting instance launched in collaboration with our partner, Relativity, demonstrates the seriousness and commitment we have to servicing the growing needs of our Australian clients.”

With the secure and powerful RelativityOne product, Morae will be able to further leverage its e-discovery expertise to provide more value and better results for its Australian clients. RelativityOne holds ISO 27001, SOC-2 Type II, HIPAA, and FedRAMP certifications, and is secure from the ground up with proactive threat intelligence and 24/7 monitoring. Additionally, moving to the cloud gives Morae the added scalability needed in today’s data-centric society and allows it to build expertise and IP on top of one connected, global solution. RelativityOne also gives Morae’s users the flexibility to pick and choose solutions from the Relativity App Hub that best suit their unique workflows across different stages of the Electronic Discovery Reference Model - and solve data challenges outside of e-discovery.

“Morae has a longstanding history and proven track record of meeting clients’ unique needs in a rapidly evolving legal industry; the decision to expand RelativityOne offerings to help legal teams in Australia manage data challenges locally when emerging data sources are increasing and becoming more complex further demonstrates this,” said Laurie Usewicz, Chief Partner Officer at Relativity. “Congratulations to Morae for strengthening its robust global offerings, and we look forward to supporting them as they continue to scale and innovate during this truly transformative time in our industry.”

Morae’s e-discovery business has steadily grown both organically and strategically, including the acquisitions of Clutch Group in 2017 and Exigent Group in 2023. The Morae team stands as the longest running RelativityOne partner in the world, including over 20 years of experience working with complex data sets to derive actionable insights from client structured and unstructured data.
