For her new project, Humphrey aims to explore the intricate fabric of community, belief, and personal narratives that define the Church of the Firstborn. "This project is about understanding the human stories within the Church," Humphrey explains. "I am eager to connect with individuals who are willing to share their experiences, whether they are current or former members. Each story offers a unique lens through which we can view the broader picture."

Participants in this project can expect a respectful and confidential platform to share their experiences. Humphrey is committed to producing a work that is not only informative and engaging but also sensitive to the personal nature of the testimonies shared.

Interested individuals are encouraged to contact LaDonna Humphrey at ladonnamhumphrey@gmail.com for more information or to arrange an interview.

LaDonna Humphrey's work continues to inspire and impact. Her upcoming project promises to be another significant contribution by providing new insights on the complex dynamics of faithbased communities.
