

THREEO AI Launches Insuretech Insurance Platform

AI-Driven Technology to Drive Profitability and Reduce Risk

NEW YORK, NY, U.S., May 14, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- THREEO AI \(https://threeo.ai/\) has launched

Insuretech specifically for the insurance industry, a leading-edge system that automates handling submissions and claims emails. The applications, which reside on the Tri Cloud™ Platform, leverage AI to provide comprehensive insights that drive revenue growth and optimize processes within insurance operations.

We know the insurance industry and understand how to implement cutting edge AI solutions to bring real benefits. We can reduce expenses for processing quotes and claims management by up to 50%.”

Jason Fernandez

THREEO AI CEO Jason Fernandez said “We know the insurance industry intimately and understand how to implement cutting edge AI solutions to bring real benefits. For most companies in the space, we can reduce expenses for processing quotes and claims management by up to 50%.”

THREEO AI can implement its solutions for insurance and other industries effectively and quickly since its platform is designed to deliver accelerated development — up to 26 times faster than alternatives. Accomplished through a common data and model ontology, the THREEO Platform offers extreme reusability, full interoperability, and unmatched scalability.
