

2Morrow Recognized Among World's Best Digital Health Companies by Newsweek

KIRKLAND, WASHINGTON, USA, May 8, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- 2Morrow, a leader in digital health solutions focused on behavior change, proudly announces its inclusion in Newsweek's inaugural ranking of the World's Best Digital Health Companies for 2024. This recognition reflects 2Morrow's commitment to excellence and innovation in the digital health industry.

Founded in 2011, 2Morrow has consistently pioneered the development of evidence-based, accessible digital health applications aimed at supporting healthier living. Through the integration of behavioral science and cutting-edge technology, 2Morrow offers a unique holistic approach to quitting tobacco, stress management, wellness, and living with chronic pain. 2Morrow's programs are distributed via employers, states, and health plans.

"We are thrilled to be recognized by Newsweek in their ranking of the world's top digital health companies," said Jo Masterson, CEO of 2Morrow. "This distinction reflects 2Morrow's commitment to innovation specifically tailored to meet today's real-world healthcare challenges."

Newsweek's ranking of the World's Best Digital Health Companies evaluated over 3,000 companies and is based on rigorous evaluation criteria, including innovation, sustainability, and the impact of solutions provided by the companies. 2Morrow's inclusion in this list not only highlights its role as a key player in the industry but also reinforces its position as a thought leader in the digital health space.
