THRAPSTON, NORTHAMPTONSHIRE, UNITED KINGDOM, May 9, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The equestrian offer from Scotts of Thrapston is set to be enhanced through a new partnership that will add high-quality German-engineered internal stables, doors, windows and a large range of accessories to its stable design capability.

Scotts' proposition for equestrians wishing to construct new stables or renovate existing facilities will now include partitions and internal stable fronts from the Hau range with their distinctive and elegant design.

Materials are manufactured with precision and available in a range of high-quality finishes including hot-dipped galvanised steel, a highly durable chip resistant powder coating, or stainless steel.

The range includes an innovative low-fronted sliding door that moves silently along an invisible guide rail, and swing doors that benefit from the HAU 2-point safety lock, obviating the need for a kick-over strap.

James Scott, Managing Director of Scotts of Thrapston said, “We're delighted to cement this partnership with Hau that will enable us to extend our range as part of our bespoke equestrian service.

“Our skilled craftspeople have been creating bespoke equestrian buildings for decades and we know how to achieve the perfect equine environment for the highest standards of horse welfare.

“The addition of Hau’s high-quality products to our equestrian portfolio means that we are perfectly placed to extend our offer to internal stables and accessories. Hau is a family-run business like Scotts, and we share the same values.”
