

Arts Media and Entertainment Institute Inc. Presents "State of the Creative Industries Panel," Sponsored by Variety VIP+

BURBANK, CA, UNITED STATES, May 13, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Arts Media and Entertainment Institute Inc. (AME Institute) is excited to announce the upcoming "State of the Creative Industries Panel," sponsored by Variety VIP+. This featured programming is scheduled for Thursday, June 27, 2024 from 4:30pm-6pm at the Los Angeles Marriott Burbank Convention Center as part of the AME Institute Burbank 2024.

The event will bring together thought leaders from organizations such as Variety, UTA, and the Ankler with different specializations in film, music, design, gaming and more to consider the current and future state of the creative industries. As a leading provider for professional development for teachers in the arts, media, and entertainment sector, AME Institute is dedicated to fostering innovation, collaboration, and excellence within the creative industries. In line with this mission, the "State of the Creative Industries Panel" will provide a platform for industry leaders to engage with educators in a dynamic discussion about the current landscape and future trends shaping the creative workforce.

Variety is proud to support an organization like AME that provides such an invaluable educational resource to southern California,”

The panel include Andrew Wallenstein (President and Chief Media Analyst for Variety Intelligence Platform (VIP+)), Sarah Parvini (Journalist), Catherine Yi (IQ Client Strategist at United Talent Agency), Jazz Tangcay (Senior Artisans Editor at Variety), Tarryn Silver (Associate Art Director at Variety Magazine), and Elaine Low (Staff Writer at The Ankler).

The logo for the AME Institute Burbank 2024 event. It features the text "ameinstitute" in a lowercase, sans-serif font where "ame" is multi-colored (blue, purple, yellow) and "institute" is black. Below this, "burbank" is written in a large, bold, black, lowercase sans-serif font. At the bottom, "2024" is written in a large, bold, pink, sans-serif font.

"We are thrilled to host the 'State of the Creative Industries Panel' in collaboration with Variety VIP+, a renowned authority in entertainment news and analysis," said Ashley Adams, Executive Director at AME Institute. "Our educators are training the future of our creative workforce, so this conversation will give them the most informed insight and data that they need."

In addition to this panel discussion, AME Institute Burbank attendees will have the opportunity to participate in additional sessions, tours, and trainings, as well as network with industry and educational colleagues.
