The decision to offer these assessments was made in response to the growing demand for specialized evaluations in the Calgary area. With the rise in mental health concerns and learning disabilities, the team at Best Choice Counselling & Assessments recognized the need for a more holistic approach to treatment. By offering these assessments, they hope to provide individuals with a better understanding of their strengths and challenges, leading to more effective treatment plans.

Psychoeducational assessments are designed to evaluate an individual's cognitive abilities, academic skills, and emotional functioning. These assessments can help identify learning disabilities, giftedness, and other factors that may impact academic performance. ADHD assessments, on the other hand, focus on evaluating attention, hyperactivity, and impulsivity, providing a better understanding of an individual's symptoms and how to manage them. Lastly, IQ tests measure an individual's intelligence and cognitive abilities, providing valuable insights into their overall cognitive functioning.

"We are thrilled to expand our services to include psychoeducational assessments, ADHD assessments, and IQ tests," says Jarret Verwimp, founder of Best Choice Counselling &
