Cosmetology schools do not typically teach students how to style and care specifically for curly hair, yet 87% of the population has textured hair of some sort”

school and prepare for life in a salon.”

The proprietary certification courses, slated to commence in Fall 2024, will be integrated as an add-on certification in cosmetology school curriculums. Taught directly by owner and founder Jennifer Janisch, the courses are designed to introduce key foundational skills and provide expertise amongst aspiring stylists - allowing for a jump start on their career.

The two distinct courses offered by Adored are:

1. Adored Signature Install Methods: This course encompasses fundamental techniques for extension installations, focusing on how to build and grow a successful extension business.
2. Blueprint to an Adored Signature Curly Install: Tailored specifically for the intricacies of coloring curly, installing, folding and employing invisible stitching techniques to achieve flawless, long-lasting curly extensions.

For cosmetology schools seeking to offer cutting-edge training programs and enhance their students' career prospects, Adored Signature's certification courses present a valuable opportunity to stay ahead of the curve.
