

Excelpoint Showcases Innovative Mobility Solutions at Future Mobility Asia 2024

SINGAPORE, May 15, 2024

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Excelpoint Systems (Pte) Ltd, a leader in smart mobility solutions, is excited to announce its participation in the annual Future Mobility Asia event, taking place from May 15-17, 2024, at Queen Sirikit National Convention Center, Bangkok, Thailand. This year, Excelpoint is proud to collaborate with Analog Devices, Inc. (ADI), as well as industry partners to showcase Battery Management Systems (BMS) and Electrification & Powertrain technologies.

Spanning a 48 square meter booth, Excelpoint and ADI are set to demonstrate their latest innovations using ADI's cutting-edge technologies to highlight product competencies in today's rapidly evolving mobility landscape. Visitors will have the opportunity to experience first-hand technological advancements that are defining the future of transportation.

In addition to the exhibition, Excelpoint has set up at a presentation corner where partners will present their solutions, discussing the impact and benefits of their technologies in fostering sustainable mobility. These presentations are designed to provide insights into the practical applications and advantages of the showcased solutions using ADI's technologies.

"Participating in Future Mobility Asia with ADI allows us to showcase our joint efforts in developing and deploying technologies that support the shift towards sustainable mobility," said Kenny Ng, Product Marketing Director of Excelpoint Systems (Pte) Ltd. "We are excited to demonstrate how our BMS and EV charging solutions are making a significant impact in the industry."

The event is a key platform for policymakers, industry leaders, and innovators to connect and explore the challenges and opportunities in developing sustainable mobility solutions. Excelpoint's presence underscores its commitment to support key players like ADI in their innovation journey, where they are then able to focus on developing and providing effective solutions that contribute to the global goal of achieving net-zero emissions.
