All My Sons tips include:

- You get what you pay for. If you are getting more than one quote, make sure you are comparing apples to apples. Usually, they are apples to oranges. Don't be afraid to ask questions. Are they charging hourly? How many men? How large is the company's fleet of trucks? Are the movers subcontractors or employees of the company?

- Use your belongings as packing supplies. When packing and unpacking breakable items such as dishes, use items you need to pack such as linens, t-shirts, towels and pillows as protective padding. This will save your items and money you would otherwise spend on packing paper/wrap.

- Pack to the future. Pack smart for easy unpacking. Label boxes by room and be sure to label on all sides of the box for easy identification when stacked. Use red duct tape to wrap boxes packed with essentials that need to be located after the move-in.
