In a recent review, Dan Parker – Staff Writer at Golf Monthly – said: “The DAVANTI is certainly a bold statement but it stands out from many other spikeless shoes thanks to its looks, quality and attention to detail and craftsmanship that goes into making each pair.”

“We're absolutely thrilled to see the DAVANTI style receive such high praise and top-level recognition in what is always a super competitive category,” said Frank van Wezel, Chairman of Duca del Cosma. “It's a huge testament to our product team for applying incredible attention to detail and the most advanced golf shoe technologies to deliver superior traction and dynamic stability, plus all-day comfort straight out of the box,” he added.

The sporty POSITANO and spiked BERNARDO shoes were among the brand's two other designs that featured in the Golf Digest showcase, as well as in MyGolfSpy's 'Best Spikeless' and 'Best Spiked Golf Shoes of 2024' rankings respectively.

Three super vibrant designs from the brand's uncompromising women's collection were selected for the Golf Digest 'Best Women's Golf Shoes of 2024' shortlist. These were the versatile GIORDANA, stylish OLIVERA and spiked AVANTI styles offering top performance and unmatched style in abundance.

Describing the GIORDANA shoe, Golf Digest said: "The GIORDANA has a functional cup sole with a stylish design. No spikes will make them the envy of those on and off the course."

The contemporary ALESI shoe was chosen by Golf Monthly for an Editor's Choice award with Women's Editor Alison Root describing it in a recent review as: "a chic design that provides comfort, as well as impressive grip and stability, this model ticks all the boxes."

Duca del Cosma was founded in Italy in 2004 by Baldovino Mattiazzo, who still designs the distinctive collections for men and women golfers. Since 2016, the company has been reinvigorated by Frank van Wezel and his wife Caroline to now see its shoes sold in more than 40 different countries worldwide.
