Entrepreneurs for Impact on their Industries and Communities

ATLANTA, GEORGIA, USA, May 21, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ --

We are thrilled to create a space where extraordinary women can connect, impact and inspire and celebrate each other's achievements.”

Dr. Ieshia Brown-Lumpkin

She-E-O Girl Bosses Women in Business Network celebrated notable female entrepreneurs with The Red Dress Gala in February 2024. This award show was curated to honor the dedication and achievement of individuals who have had a positive impact on their industries and communities. The event was hosted by Dr. Ieshia Brown-Lumpkin, the CEO and founder of She-E-O.

The She-E-O Girl Bosses Women in Business Network which created a nurturing environment for powerful and successful women to connect, celebrate and honor their achievements. The platform has grown to include over 2,400 influential women across a variety of industries. The platform is a safe space for women in business to network, collaborate, and empower each other to be better global entrepreneurs.

The highly anticipated annual Red Dress Gala was created as an extension of the platform. Our attendees are influencers, corporate leaders, and community advocates who have helped to pave the way for others in their industries. Dr. Ieshia Brown-Lumpkin says of the gala, “it is a testament to the power and resilience of women in business. We are thrilled to create a space where extraordinary women can connect, impact and inspire and celebrate each other's achievements.”

At the 2024 Red Dress Gala there were 29 She-E-O Girl Boss Reward Recipients including local entrepreneur Maureen Washington, CEO of MoBeauty Supply Vending, a black women-owned company at the forefront of innovative specialty vending machines.
