

MAR mining provides stable income regarding profitability after BTC halving

LONDON, UK, May 21, 2024

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Because the United States and Hong Kong approved ETFs before this round of Bitcoin halving, this policy permission made Bitcoin retail investment possible, greatly increasing the investment value of Bitcoin. Therefore, before the halving, the price of Bitcoin hit a record high of $73,000. However, Bitcoin investment has always been subject to great volatility and risk. For example, as the US dollar interest rate rises, many investors have abandoned riskier investment products such as cryptocurrencies and turned to investments with higher certainty such as interest payments and government bonds. Bitcoin has recently fallen to around $60,000.

In addition, as the investment value of Bitcoin soars, the threshold for investing in Bitcoin is getting higher and higher. Looking at another way to obtain Bitcoin, Bitcoin mining is becoming more and more difficult, and it has entered the era of mining in the mining pool system. The threshold for investing in Bitcoin mining pools is higher than directly buying Bitcoin.

So new investors have no chance to share a piece of the Bitcoin investment pie? Of course not, MAR's cloud mining can help new investors easily make money from the Bitcoin world.

What is cloud mining?

Cloud mining is a form of cryptocurrency mining that allows individuals to rent computing power from remote data centers. In the process, users do not have to invest in expensive mining
