Launched by the financial education platform "24hprofits," the "1 Million People Challenge" aims to guide participants from an initial investment of $10,000 to a target of $1 million through expert-led strategies and community support.

These strategies focus on high-growth potential investments across various sectors, including technology, green energy, and biotechnology.

Juergen Pallien, Founder and Chief Strategist of the 1 Million People Challenge, said, "Our mission has always been to demystify the investment process and make high returns accessible to everyone, not just the seasoned investors. The remarkable results from the past years are a testament to our commitment and the efficacy of our strategies. We are particularly thrilled with the strong start in 2024, which further validates our approach."

The challenge not only equips participants with the financial tools and knowledge needed for success but also fosters a supportive community environment. This allows members to share insights, learn from each other's experiences, and stay motivated through collective progress.

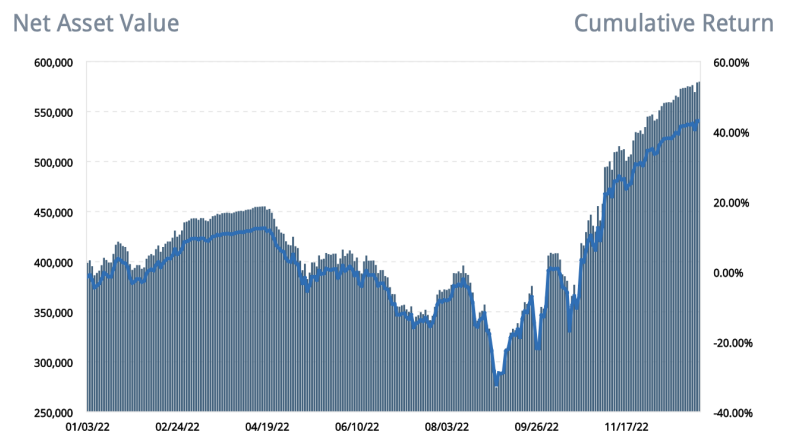

Participant Testimonial: Marco Funk, a participant who joined the challenge in mid 2023, shared, "The '1 Million People Challenge' has completely transformed my approach to investing. The resources and support provided have made a significant difference, and I am seeing real growth in my personal portfolio."

Looking ahead, the "1 Million People Challenge" plans to expand its reach, offering more workshops, webinars, and direct coaching sessions to empower even more individuals to achieve financial freedom.
