Everyone's Superpower

NAQIX Logix, A Breakthrough in Technology

From a NAQI Neural Earbud to 3D printed living seawalls, the eighth annual awards honor new and inspiring solutions to the most daunting challenges of today.

The winners of Fast Company's 2024 World Changing Ideas Awards were announced spotlighting innovative projects that are shaping the future. NAQI Logix was selected for its groundbreaking NAQI Neural Earbud, which allows anyone to control digital devices without touch, voice or even screen commands. The NAQI Neural Earbud reads facial microgestures such as a tilt of the head or an eye blink and turns them into seamless commands to control almost any device in our digital world. Already integrated into earbuds, NAQI's technology empowers users to control a wide range of devices, from computers, wheelchairs, smart home systems and AR/VR environments. By offering this effective alternative to brain implants, NAQI Logix is transforming how we interact with technology.

"We are thrilled to be recognized by Fast Company for our efforts to create technology that enhances lives and drives positive social impact," said Dave Segal, Inventor and Chief Innovation Officer at NAQI Logix. "The Naqi Neural Earbud showcases our commitment to innovation and our vision for a more accessible, user-friendly future."

This year's World Changing Ideas Awards showcase selected winners from a pool of more than 1,300 entries from across the globe, including the Republic of Korea, Brazil, and Madagascar. Fast Company's Spring 2024 issue will unveil some of the world's most creative minds and pioneering organizations that are seeking to disrupt the status quo. The solutions cover everything from renewable energy storage and waste in the fashion industry to a building made entirely from recycled concrete and a fridge that's solar-powered and designed to run off the grid.

"I was struck this year by the global sweep of the honorees," says Fast Company editor-in-chief Brendan Vaughan. "It's endlessly inspiring to see how the world is coming together to devise inventive solutions to our most challenging problems. We need ideas from everywhere, and this year's World Changing Ideas Awards are an extraordinary encapsulation of the innovation and creativity that is so abundant around the globe."

Mark Godsy, NAQI Logix's CEO, emphasized, "Our mission is to empower everyone with NAQI's capabilities, redefine accessibility, revolutionize digital device control, and pave the way for a more inclusive and innovative future."
