

Haitian Tutor Swans Paul Offers Customized One-On-One Lessons To Help Individuals Learn Haitian Creole Fast

HERNANDARIAS, PARAGUAY, May 29, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Haitian language tutor Swans Paul has launched Your-Haitian-Tutor, a highly personalized online Haitian Creole conversation class designed to help English speakers learn Creole quickly and efficiently. As a part of the launch promotion, Swans is offering prospective students a 25-minute introductory class — completely complimentary. In this one-on-one language learning session, students will learn the basics of Haitian Creole conversation and get a sense of the teaching approach.

The graphic features a purple header with the text "HOW TO SAY" in white. Below this, a yellow box contains the phrase "YOU ARE MY FRIEND" in large, bold, black letters, with "IN HAITIAN CREOLE" underneath. A dotted line separates this from the translation "OU SE ZANMI MWEN" in bold black letters, followed by "BY YOURHAITIANTRANSLATOR.COM". To the right is a circular portrait of Swans Paul, a man with glasses and a beard. Below the portrait, text reads "Swans Paul Haitian Creole translator visit: yourhaitiantranslator.com". At the bottom left, a white box contains the "YOUR HAITIAN TRANSLATOR" logo and the tagline "ACCURATE ENGLISH TO HAITIAN CREOLE TRANSLATION BY A NATIVE". The bottom right of the graphic features a purple background with a white fingerprint-like pattern.

How to say you are my friend in Haitian Creole

While Your-Haitian-Translator provides an ongoing curriculum for mastering both conversational and advanced Haitian Creole, Paul customizes lessons to the needs and goals of individual learners. As the first language of over 11 million people around the globe, Haitian Creole is spoken throughout the United States, Canada, Brazil, Chile, Mexico, Cuba, France and the Caribbean. Learners might be practicing Haitian Creole for reasons related to adoption, missionary work, non-profit endeavors, educational initiatives, and more. Whether they wish to live or work in a Haitian Creole-speaking setting, connect with Creole-speaking friends and family, or expand their knowledge of Haitian culture, Swans lends his extensive expertise to help them learn Haitian Creole fast.

“On a language app, learners can’t practice and sharpen their Haitian Creole pronunciation. They don’t receive the customized feedback they need to learn to speak Haitian Creole fast.”

Swans Paul, Haitian Creole Tutor and Translator

Swans was trained as a peer tutor at Massasoit Community College in Brockton, MA, where he tutored English Composition 1 and 2 and beyond. As a self-taught polyglot who speaks French, Haitian Creole, English, Spanish, Portuguese, and some Italian, Swans grasps the intricacies and cultural nuances that exist between and across languages. He understands how to help students acclimate to the sounds and vocabulary that will allow them to learn Haitian Creole fast. For roughly two years, Paul taught English to Brazilians and Spanish speakers in the Boston area, and he also worked briefly as a one-on-one private tutor in Brazil.

While some individuals dabble in language learning apps and self-study programs, data suggests that personalized instruction is still the most effective route to fluency and retention with any new language. “The app model tends toward a one-size-fits-all approach that fails to satisfy the specific needs and interests of a learner,” Swans remarks. He further adds, “On a language app, learners can’t practice and sharpen their Haitian Creole pronunciation. They don’t receive the in-person, real-time feedback they need to become a speaker. It’s really word recognition instead of interactive conversations. But immediate attention from a native Haitian Creole speaker can bridge that pronunciation gap.”

Swans makes sure learners are spending time on the material and vocabulary most relevant to their goals — and drilling the most challenging phrases and pronunciation when needed. After discussing a learner’s particular interests, Swans will tailor their initial free Haitian Creole lesson accordingly. He will immediately begin providing the guidance and training they seek. Paul recognizes that school teachers might wish to learn Haitian Creole fast as a way to better communicate with Haitian students in their classes. He will prioritize a specific selection of Haitian Creole sentences to help meet this objective.

After completing the complimentary 25-minute class, learners can choose to sign up for a month’s worth of Haitian Creole conversation classes, but they have no obligation to continue beyond the first class. Because Paul is facilitating each language class himself alongside his work as a Haitian Creole translator, enrollment is currently limited to ten learners of Haitian Creole. Once this number is reached, new prospective students will be placed on a waiting list. To learn more about Your-Haitian-Translator classes, visit <https://yourhaitiantranslator.com/private->
