principles in the life and workings of 90210 Enterprise. Collaboration and Service are an important ingredient to expansion and impact when you are on a mission. With this knowledge 90210 Enterprise connected with and started collaboration with 'Bella Vida Global.'

Erin Schmidt, successful serial entrepreneur and dedicated mom, began the path of living the 'Bella Vida' with a focus on sustainable beauty as the starting block. Having received multiple awards and accolades for this unique luxury beauty line was just the start though. She and her husband Brady knew that their mission was larger than one area of life. In order to truly create and live the 'Bella Vida' more needed to be done.

As Bella Vida Santa Barbara celebrated its 5th Anniversary in April 2024 it also celebrated other milestone: connecting with and working with Ashkan Tabibnia, The Legacy Architect and Founder of 90210 Enterprise.

This connection is a crucial piece in the journey towards creating and leaving their legacy. With the help of Ashkan Tabibnia, Erin and Brady, have exponentially expanded and have become a voice to be listened to. As she states in the current edition of their 'Bella Vida Magazine': I can honestly say that the only reason I am still in business is because I decided from the start not to give up." on page 14, where she also shares her keys to success for any business.

That is where the work, Ashkan Tabibnia, comes into play. The revolutionary blueprint for success 90210 Enterprise uses with their members, partners, and collaborators has created Bella Vida's freeway to living their legacy. Erin and Brady's "determination and tenacity" as well as their adherence to key 3 & 4 to success in business has allowed them to now continue with the Beauty Skin Care, publish a highly successful Magazine, be an important voice on social media, and having created 7 divisions, plus a foundation.

As Ashkan puts it "our first 90 days were incredibly successful, allowing us to complete all preliminary work within just 80 days, a feat that is unheard of. Our next deadline is December to finalize all nine sectors, each with its unique timeline, certain requirements are needed [...]"

Based on this achievement by Erin and Brady it is no wonder that they are excited: "We are very honored to partner with 90210 Enterprise and Ashkan Tabibnia and his stellar team. We see an incredibly bright future ahead for Bella Vida Global and 90210!"

Bella Vida Global is a living and thriving example of what 90210 Enterprise can do with and for entrepreneurs and companies, as the partnership is not just based on programs and hard work but mostly on real relationships, trust, and commitment, which also led to Brady joining Mindtorium, where entertainment meets personal development.

What partnership will be next? Who will soar next?
