

'2024 Flat Stanley Rides a Harley for Kids & Cops' to Benefit 15 Delray Beach Nonprofits

Cross Country Journey to Raise Funds for Programs Supporting Children, Police and Animals Kicks off July 4

DELRAY BEACH, FL, UNITED STATES, May 23, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Delray Beach resident Chuck "Big Dog" Halberg and riding partners John "Mad Dog" Looney and Jean "Jaboo" Alepin are embarking on a charitable cross country journey to raise funds for 15 Delray Beach-based nonprofit organizations. Called the '2024 Flat Stanley Rides a Harley for Kids & Cops,' the trip will last from July 4-22, 2024 and raise money for programs supporting children, police, and animals in Delray Beach. Supporters can donate to the nonprofit of their choice at <https://linktr.ee/flatstanley2024>.

Halberg, a supporter of various South Florida organizations and owner and president of Stuart & Shelby Home Builders, took his first road trip to benefit kids and cops in 2011. Along with his former riding partner Jimmy Christe (in memory of), Halberg made it a personal mission to touch all 48 states in the continental United States over three road trips. The two accomplished this in 2018 and raised over $50,000 for local nonprofits in the process. In 2021, Halberg was joined by his new riding partners – as well as popular children's book character Flat Stanley – and raised $77,000 for 10 local nonprofits.

This year, Halberg and friends are at it again. This year's trip kicks off on July 4 and will include stops in Alabama, Colorado, Utah, Wyoming, North Dakota, Missouri, North Carolina, as well as other states. Halberg will once again take Flat Stanley, who will join in on all activities. Followers can get nightly updates from Flat Stanley on the trip at
