How It Works

Travellers can purchase raffle tickets at Fireflies.com. Each ticket is a chance to win a meticulously curated travel package, complete with round-trip flights, premium accommodations, and experiences that showcase the best of each destination. Winners are chosen through a transparent and fair drawing process, giving everyone an equal shot at embarking on their journey.

User-Generated Content Rewards Program

In conjunction with Adventure Raffles, Fireflies.com is excited to introduce the User-Generated Content (UGC) Rewards Program. This initiative invites travellers to become storytellers of their own journeys.

"Participants can share captivating videos and photos that showcase their unique experiences with accommodations, destinations, and activities booked through Fireflies. By doing so, they have the chance to be featured across Fireflies' platforms, reaching a global audience of fellow travel enthusiasts," said István Varga, Director of Business Development at Fireflies.

Share Your Journey, Earn Rewards

The UGC Rewards Program is more than simply a platform for sharing travel stories; it's a community where creativity and personal insights are celebrated. Travellers who contribute their content will be rewarded with exclusive digital collectibles, enhancing their future travel adventures. These digital rewards can be collected, traded, or redeemed for special perks, making every journey with Fireflies even more enriching.

Looking Ahead

The development of Adventure Raffles will commence in Q2 2024, with the first raffles expected to launch later in the year. Fireflies.com is dedicated to ensuring that this new initiative meets the highest standards of quality and excitement, delivering memorable experiences to all participants.
