

Brad Stuart MD Seen As National Leader "Author of Facing Death: Spirituality, Science, and Surrender at the End of Life"

WASHINGTON , DC, USA, May 31, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Brad Stuart, M.D., Chief Medical Officer of The Coalition to Transform Advanced Care (C-TAC), has been recognized as one of the most influential national leaders in hospice and palliative care by the American Academy of Hospice and Palliative Medicine (AAHPM). This prestigious acknowledgment by AAHPM's over 5,000 members highlights Dr. Stuart's significant contributions to the field dedicated to alleviating suffering and enhancing the quality of life for individuals with serious illnesses.

Dr. Stuart's distinguished career spans five decades, during which he has been a pioneer in healthcare delivery, policy innovation, and the integration of science and spirituality in medical practice. In the 1990s, he was instrumental in developing national guidelines for hospice eligibility for non-cancer diseases, later adopted by the U.S. Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS). His groundbreaking work was also featured in the 1996 HBO documentary, "Letting Go: A Hospice Journey."

In 2023, Dr. Stuart released his book, "Facing Death: Spirituality, Science, and Surrender at the End of Life." The book addresses the profound mystery of death and the challenges faced when reconciling science and spirituality. It offers an in-depth exploration of healing beyond cure, with personal stories, reflections on meditation, the therapeutic use of psychedelics, and near-death experiences.

Dr. Brad Stuart, author and named one of the most influential national leaders in hospice and palliative care by the American Academy of Hospice and Palliative Medicine (AAHPM)

Praise for "Facing Death":

"Dr. Stuart has already made a profound impact on our field by developing new models of care for people living with serious illness. But his spiritual insights may be even more important. His book is a profound invitation to embrace the deepest kinds of healing in both medicine and your personal life." Alex Smith, M.D., Professor of Medicine, University of California San Francisco

"Anyone who reads this book will be prepared for transformative experiences in life's final moments—or in your life right now. You will not stop turning the pages of this brilliant book, and you will be glad you didn't." Dale G. Larson, PhD, author and McCarthy Professor of Counseling Psychology, Santa Clara University

Key Themes in "Facing Death":

Discover the core of your being

Expand your comfort zone around the end of life

Realize ancient wisdom from mystics and visionaries

Understand brain function in meditation, psychedelics, and near-death experiences

Grasp the forthcoming revolution in our understanding of reality

About Brad Stuart, M.D.:

Dr. Brad Stuart has practiced internal medicine across various settings, including his office, emergency rooms, hospitals, and intensive care units. With twenty-five years as a hospice medical director, he founded a national model of care for people with serious illness at home. Dr. Stuart's lifelong journey in medicine has also been a path to becoming a healer, integrating his medical expertise with spiritual wisdom.

For more information, visit his website and connect with Dr. Stuart on Facebook and LinkedIn. "Facing Death: Spirituality, Science, and Surrender at the End of Life" is available on Amazon.com and wherever fine books are sold.

ROBERT NEWMAN

Newman Communications

+1 617-952-1470

email us here

Visit us on social media:

Facebook

X

This press release can be viewed online at: <https://www.einpresswire.com/article/715253342>

EIN Presswire's priority is source transparency. We do not allow opaque clients, and our editors try to be careful about weeding out false and misleading content. As a user, if you see something we have missed, please do bring it to our attention. Your help is welcome. EIN Presswire, Everyone's Internet News Presswire™, tries to define some of the boundaries that are reasonable in today's world. Please see our Editorial Guidelines for more information.

© 1995-2024 Newsmatics Inc. All Right Reserved.