

CanHope Takes Flight: Joining Forces with Rick Mantei to Soar Above Cancer

Jim Mallak and Erin Vincent flew with Rick Mantei in his 1943 Stearman Biplane, symbolizing CanHope's mission to fight cancer through awareness and prevention.

AIKEN, SOUTH CAROLINA, UNITED STATES, May 29, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- On May 16th, 2024, Jim Mallak and Erin Vincent, representatives from CanHope, took to the skies with seasoned pilot Rick Mantei in his iconic 1943 Stearman Biplane.

Jim Mallak, serving as the charity's treasurer, and Erin Vincent, the charity's secretary, embraced this unique opportunity to fly with Rick, a passionate aviator with a heart for community involvement. The flight not only offered a thrilling adventure but also served as a symbol of CanHope's mission to rise above cancer through early detection and prevention initiatives.

Rick Mantei's dedication to utilizing his aircraft for community engagement aligns seamlessly with CanHope's vision of raising awareness and fostering a supportive environment for those affected by cancer. By leveraging his passion for flying, Mantei continues to inspire others and amplify the message of hope within the Aiken community and beyond.

During the flight event, Jim Mallak was pictured alongside Rick Mantei. This photo reflects the spirit of collaboration and camaraderie between both parties in the fight against cancer.
