The new collection is designed to meet the diverse needs of women looking for versatile and easy-to-use hair extensions.”

Mikey Moran

As the demand for high-quality hair extensions continues to grow, Private Label is at the forefront of innovation and customer satisfaction. The Raw Indian Hair collection is made from 100% human hair ethically sourced from the temples of Southeast India, ensuring not only premium quality, but also a strict adherence to the highest ethical standards. The collection includes a wide variety of products including hair bundles, closures, frontals, bulk human hair for braiding, clip-in extensions, and more.

Mikey Moran, CEO of Private Label, says, “We are incredibly proud to introduce our Raw Indian Hair collection. Our mission has always been to provide high-quality hair extensions at prices that everyone can afford. With this collection, we are not only delivering the best in quality but also ensuring that our products remain accessible to all. We believe that everyone deserves the opportunity to look and feel their best, and our new Raw Indian Hair collection makes that possible.

“The new collection is designed to meet the diverse needs of women looking for versatile and easy-to-use hair extensions. Whether it's for a special occasion or a daily enhancement, the Raw Indian Hair collection offers something for everyone."

Renowned for its natural texture, durability, and versatility, Raw Indian hair has maintained its status as the most sought-after type of hair extension for the past few decades. Private Label's new collection aims to make these premium hair extensions accessible to a broader audience by leveraging strong manufacturing partnerships. The extensions can be styled and treated just like natural hair, giving users the freedom to experiment with different looks whenever they wish.
