

TEC Mailing Solutions Revolutionizing Certified Mail with Launch of Next-Gen Automation and Bulk Discounts

TEC Mailing Solutions has launched a next-generation certified mail solution focused on efficiency through automation and modern print production workflows.

MADISON, WISCONSIN, UNITED STATES, June 3, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- TEC Mailing Solutions, a Madison, Wisconsin based SaaS vendor that specializes in mailing and parcel delivery solutions, has just launched a next-generation certified mail solution with a focus on efficiency through automation and modern print production workflows.

TEC Mailing Solutions has launched a next-generation certified mail solution focused on efficiency through automation and modern print production workflows.”

Scott Eganhouse

This new service is available through a simple user interface or production-ready API and requires no pre-approval process from the USPS. What's more, the service can be used with TEC Mailing's class-leading MailPreparer solution to presort the mailings for bulk discount, which is the first of its kind execution offered by a single solution provider. By combining bulk mailing discounts along with certified mail offering, users need not rely on meter machines to frank mail or third-party solutions.

TEC Mailing further refines the certified mail process by creating the shipping services file, creating the firm sheet, and EFN scan data to streamline mail submission. Print service providers utilizing the service can also use the parent-child architecture, which provides comprehensive tracking and delivery segmented to each client in a secure and discreet fashion.

While there are a few ways to produce certified mail, TEC's approach is reflective of the modern postal tech stack that creates parcels. This creates a more immersive experience for the mail owner by rendering data in real-time with a more comprehensive view. For mail preparers, preparation and induction are far more streamlined.

Scott Eganhouse, VP of Sales at TEC Mailing Solutions, comments, "Our new certified mail solution embodies the innovation and efficiency that our clients have come to expect from TEC. By automating complex workflows and combining it with our MailPreparer solution, we've made certified mail more accessible and cost-effective than ever before. This launch represents a significant step forward in simplifying mailing operations, ensuring that our clients can focus on their core business while we handle the intricacies of mail preparation and delivery."
