

Asian/Pacific American Heritage Month: Real Estate Changemakers

Anna D. Smith Fine Art and Real Estate Broker is proud to celebrate AAPI Heritage Month by highlighting 5 exceptional Asian/Pacific Americans in real estate.

SILICON VALLEY , CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, June 1, 2024

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Anna D. Smith Fine Art and Real Estate Broker proudly honors Asian American and Pacific Islander Heritage Month by showcasing five outstanding Asian Americans or Pacific Islanders who have significantly impacted the real estate industry. These individuals exemplify the diversity and excellence that propel the industry forward.

MAYA LIN

Renowned architect and sculptor, best known for designing the Vietnam Veterans Memorial in Washington, D.C., Lin has made significant contributions to both art and architecture with her minimalist and impactful designs.

MIA TAKAMI

Leading the Mia Takami Real Estate Group, Takami is recognized for her top-tier sales achievements and exceptional service in luxury real estate, particularly in San Francisco's high-end market. Her multicultural background and multilingual skills enhance her ability to serve diverse clients.

American architect and sculptor Maya Lin

ALEX ZUNIGA

CEO and owner of Elite Spartans, Zuniga's journey from overcoming personal challenges to establishing a successful fitness business in Silicon Valley exemplifies resilience and dedication. His background in fitness and education drives his mission to empower clients through health and wellness.

SCHOLASTICA (GAY) CORORATON

As a Senior Economist and Director of Housing & Commercial Research at the National Association of REALTORS®, Cororaton plays a pivotal role in analyzing economic trends and their impacts on the real estate market, contributing valuable insights for industry professionals.

ASIAN AMERICAN REAL ESTATE ASSOCIATION OF AMERICA (AREAA)
Founded in 2003, AREAA is dedicated to promoting sustainable homeownership opportunities for Asian American and Pacific Islander communities. The organization advocates for fair housing practices and provides vital resources to real estate professionals.

This celebration highlights the diverse achievements and significant impact of Asian Americans or Pacific Islanders in real estate, honoring their contributions to the industry and their communities.
