Activated Carbon: The ultimate sponge, soaking up impurities in air, water purification, and pollution control”

Exactitude Consultancy

The global activated carbon market is projected to reach USD 10.44 Billion by 2030 from USD 4.77 Billion in 2023, at a CAGR of 9.1% from 2024 to 2030.

Activated carbon, also known as activated charcoal, is used in various industrial applications, such as gas and air cleaning, involving reusable recovery. Growing environmental concerns and awareness have led to strict emissions guidelines. This, in turn, has encouraged several manufacturers to invest in developed technologies and advanced concepts for the use of the product in applications such as cleaning and air treatment. It is increasingly used for water treatment, such as drinking water, service water, groundwater, and wastewater.

North America

Europe

Asia Pacific

Middle East & Africa

Latin America

Asia Pacific dominated the market with a value of USD 2.20 billion in 2023. It is expected to remain dominant throughout the forecast period, as China and India are two major consuming countries, mainly for water treatment applications. The exponential rise in population in Asia Pacific has led to an increased need for pure and safe potable water, thereby increasing demand for activated charcoal. Additionally, the ease of availability of raw materials and their low costs are expected to support the market's growth.

The market in North America is anticipated to grow moderately due to the rising demand for products from various industrial companies. In North America, the U.S. led the market due to increased demand for water and air purification applications. Regulations imposed by the government on the disposal of industrial wastewater and gas emissions have led to the growth in the use of the product for removing contaminants such as CO₂, mercury vapors, and other toxic gases.

Porter's five forces framework

Porter's five forces framework provides a blueprint for understanding the behavior of competitors and a player's strategic positioning in the respective industry. This section evaluates the different external factors that will impact competitive position over the coming years. This will be analyzed through 5 main factors such as:

Competitive Rivalry

Threat of New Entry

Threat of Substitution

Supplier Bargaining Power

Buyer Bargaining Power

Can we help you to understand the competitive landscape of your market?

Yes. Customized requirements of multi-dimensional, deep-level and high-quality can help our customers precisely grasp market opportunities, effortlessly confront market challenges, properly formulate market strategies and act promptly, thus to win them sufficient time and space for market competition.

- Country level market for Activated Carbon industry (up to 5)

- Profiling and additional market players (up to 5)

- Up to 40 hours of customization.
