

Whisky Distiller Glen Breton Shines at the 2024 World Whisky Awards with Four Prestigious Awards

Glen Breton Distillery is delighted to announce its outstanding achievement at the 2024 World Whisky Awards, securing two Gold Medals.

GLENVILLE, NOVA SCOTIA, CANADA, June 5, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Glen Breton Distillery is delighted to announce its outstanding achievement at the 2024 World Whisky Awards, securing two Gold Medals. This marks a significant milestone for the distillery, emphasizing its commitment to crafting the best Single Malt Whisky that is cherished globally.

"We are immensely proud of our team's dedication and craftsmanship," said Lauchie MacLean, President of Glen Breton Distillery. "These awards are a testament to our unwavering commitment to producing exceptional whiskies that embody the rich heritage and unique character of the Best Single Malt Whisky."

Organized by the experts behind the World Whiskies Awards, this event is one of the industry's most prestigious and the only international spirits competition judged by real traders. The 2024 competition saw more than 1600 entries across 22 categories, including Single Malt, Blended, Bourbon, and Rye. Glen Breton was one of Canada's biggest winners at the event, landing four separate certifications under the whisky category. The distillery's passion for bringing premium whisky to North America is clear, and the latest awards are further recognition of its continued commitment to quality (Global Drinks Awards) (Global Drinks Awards) (Whisky Magazine).

The Glen Breton 10 Year and Glen Breton 14 Year expressions were awarded Gold Medals, while the Glen Breton 19 Year got a Silver Medal. These awards highlight the distillery's expertise in creating whiskies that are both unique and exceptional in taste.

About the Award-Winning Expressions:

Glen Breton Rare 10 Year Old Single Malt Whisky: Candied pear aromas lead into a palate rich with more pear, honey, and ginger. The profile is malty and sweet, with notes of vanilla, brown bread, and French toast. Apples and sweeter fruits emerge, complemented by hints of barley and a sweet, sugary note. The finish is characterized by a lingering spice and a subtle hint of aged wood. Tasting Notes

Glen Breton Rare 14 Years Old Single Malt Whisky: Gentle honey sweetness on the nose. The palate is more robust with vanilla, oak spices, and stewed fruits. Richly layered and polished. Tasting Notes

14 Year Best Single Malt Whisky

Glen Breton Rare 19 Year Old Single Malt Whisky: The whisky presents a very faint nose with a fresh character. The palate reveals a mix of earthy and malty flavours, complemented by a minty note. The finish is light and short. Tasting Notes
