“Love & Gratitude” is a song born from a place of deep reflection and positivity. Cherylann shares, “I received a call some time ago from a friend who had moved to Nashville to work for a record company. He had taken on a new female country artist and needed more songs for her to release. This call happened during a time when I had begun to practice finding gratitude in everything I encountered, so I decided to write a country song. The Beatles said ‘All You Need is Love,’ and I decided to add a little gratitude to that statement.” Though the country artist ultimately moved on from Nashville, Cherylann was left with a song that has since become her personal mantra.

The single features Cherylann on acoustic guitar and vocals, Bob Zigerelli on lead acoustic guitars, Charlie McVay on pedal steel guitar, Joey Granati on bass and keys, and Tracey Whorton on drums and percussion. "Love & Gratitude" was recorded and mixed with David Granati at Maplewood Studio/Dave World Productions and mastered by Brian Foraker.

Her current frequent collaborations include working with Pittsburgh singer-songwriter John Vento, lending her voice to his albums "Love, Lust & Other Wreckage" and "Brick by Brick." In August 2023, Cherylann joined forces with John, Bob Zigerelli, and Kevin McCarthy to form the acoustic group "Vento, Ziggy, Hawk & McCarthy" (VZH&M). The group has recently released a single and has more music on the way.
