It's never too early and never too late to follow your passions and take positive action towards fulfilling a dream. I'd like to inspire everyone who listens to the music to know that.”

Sammy Wiley

13 soon-to-be-released singles coinciding with the 13 full moons over the next year from 2024 to 2025. Front man and band leader Sammy Wiley collaborates with a different musical act for each single, starting with Gin Blossoms guitarist Scotty Johnson on lead single “Get It Back”. The first single was released on May 23, in conjunction with the full Flower Moon.

“Get It Back Again” is a 90s rock-infused motivational track about never giving up. Multi-platinum songwriter/producer Gardner Cole (Madonna, Tina Turner) tracked the song, while Larry Elyea (Mind's Eye Productions) mixed and mastered the track. While Wiley and Johnson were neighbors in the Arcadia district for years, this is the duo's first collaboration.

"Scotty is an amazing guitarist," says Wiley, who notes Johnson played lead guitar, rhythm guitar and bass for the track. "When you have a great friendship and the creative energy feels right, you absolutely go for it."

"Get it Back" Lyrically and melodically is all Sam Wiley", says Scotty. "I had 2 song ideas that I was working on. Sam recorded them on his phone at my place that was 4 houses down from his house. Our next writing session Sam had already written the verses and the chorus. It blew me away. We next went into record. It was very organic and such an inspiring song."

Wiley says he penned "Get It Back" when he envisioned a song about not procrastinating and never giving up. He says he hopes the lyrics, with themes on following your dreams and getting back up if you fall, resonate with others.

"I've always said if I can be inspired and in turn inspire others, I can be happy," Wiley says. "My only goal is to stay creative and share it with as many ears as possible. It's never too early and never too late to follow your passions and take positive action towards fulfilling a dream. I'd like to inspire everyone who listens to the music to know that."
