A Piece of Cinematic History - Epic Movie Outfits:

The concept of outfits inspired by Hollywood movies goes way back from the time of James Dean in 1955 when he strutted on the set of "Rebel without a Cause", donning an awesome red jacket unaware of the fact that it would go down in history as one of the most iconic jackets of all time and who can forget Keanu Reeves' epic black trench coat from the action cyberpunk sci-fi blockbuster flick of 1999 "The Matrix".

These movies left an indelible mark in the Hollywood hall of fame and popularity of the actors involved skyrocketed, with their faces adorning magazine covers worldwide. But that was not all. Along with the movies and the celebrities, their outfits in the movies became famous too and the internet still can't stop talking about them.

Just like in the movies, TLJ is trying to recreate the same effect by releasing their new movie outfit collection.

From the latest action-packed blockbusters to timeless classics, TLJ has a wide variety of movie-inspired jackets so movie fans can carry a piece of the cinematic universe with them.

Allowing people to dress like their favorite celebrity and artists, TLJ has come up with a fresh wave of celebrity jackets. From Ye's Balenciaga classic leather jacket to Drake's 35th birthday leather jacket, the range that TLJ is providing is quite extensive..

But surprisingly, this collection of celebrity outfits is not limited to just celebrities and artists; TLJ's creations include jackets and coats worn by famous sports stars, political figures and media persons too. TV series have become popular again in the span of a decade or so, and production houses and companies who make these series have upped the ante in recent times by casting the hottest and most renowned celebrities and stars on the planet along with allocating a hefty budget for said ventures. These series' have become as popular as big-budget movies, and with them, the outfits revolving around characters have become hits among their fans, too.
