“Earning my CMCA has bolstered my confidence in my community management industry knowledge,” said Ottaway-Ketcham. “I look forward to applying what I’ve learned to benefit our team and customers.”

CAMS Chief Operating Officer Cathy Wade, CMCA®, AMS® PCAM®, is proud to see Ottaway-Ketcham’s achievement.

“Addison has demonstrated a passion for learning, and he consistently challenges himself and his team to raise the bar,” said Wade. “Earning the CMCA speaks to his commitment to serve our customers by learning more about the community manager role and the industry.”

The Certified Manager of Community Associations (CMCA®) designation, awarded by the Community Association Managers International Certification Board (CAMICB), signifies an individual's proficiency in community association management. It is a recognized industry standard demonstrating a manager's commitment to upholding the field's highest professional standards and knowledge. Earning the CMCA designation requires a comprehensive understanding of essential areas crucial for successful community association management, including governance, finance, ethics, and operations.
