The 40 Under 40 Challenge, certified by The Human Resources Certification Institute (HRCI) one of the premier credentialing and learning organizations for the HR profession, offers participants access to thirteen world-class, self-paced, online learning modules that are professionally developed and curated in The Bahamas. These learning modules address the core functional categories of Human Resources (e.g. HR Planning, Performance Management, Total Rewards, Recruitment and Selection, Total Well-Being etc.), and features collaborative discussions with foremost thought leaders on each knowledge area. In addition to thirteen free, certified, online workshops, the 40 Under 40 Executive Team (led by Wellington Hepburn) delivers complimentary weekly online debriefing and Q&A sessions, provides free individual coaching for participants, and also has facilitated a resume revitalization workshop, to encourage all participants to create a world-class resume.

Out of 300 applications to the program, 51 outstanding mentees were chosen to participate in this prestigious online learning journey. The selection process ensured that only the most promising candidates received the valuable guidance and resources provided.

"This program was a divinely inspired initiative by God, and originally, I intended for this challenge to have a maximum of 40 participants. However, some individuals were so persistent and hungry to learn, that I couldn't turn them away. The value of this program is immense, and I wanted to extend this opportunity to as many people as possible," remarked Hepburn.

Wellington Hepburn's commitment to nurturing future leaders in the Human Resources field has been evident throughout the program. His commitment to challenging his mentees is seen in the level of coaching they received. Hepburn said participants in the program were given discussion questions, case studies, and group assignments, with real-world business problems and real-life scenarios.

This program's intent is to encourage a minimum of 40 young HR Leaders, all under the age of 40, with 40 free hours of world-class learning – hence the name 40 Under 40 Challenge. The program began in February 2024 and the learning module releases will conclude in June 2024. In July and August 2024, power principles will be pulled from each module and shared within the local community, for further reinforcement and learning.

In addition to being an astute businessman, Wellington Hepburn is a devout Christian. In March 2024, he took the stage as a distinguished speaker at the C-Suite For Christ Conference, headlined by keynote speaker Tim Tebow. This conference, hosted by the esteemed C-Suite For Christ association, united the voices of thousands of Christian Business Executives and Senior Leaders worldwide.
