It is such an honor to be recognized, but what was even more important to us was that the team from London found our residents to be inspiring, fun-loving, and full of vitality.”

and the first episode of the series, followed several residents of The Ridge Pinehurst in a "day in the life" format, offering viewers a glimpse into the vibrant lifestyle at the community. The Ridge Pinehurst was featured alongside The Palace at Coral Gables in Miami, Florida, and Danny House in Sussex, England.

"The Ridge was selected because it is a bona fide luxurious senior living community which feels like a slick, modern, hotel spa with state-of-the-art wellness facilities, beautiful artwork, and surrounded by open countryside and mountain scenery," said Ed Kellie, Founder and Exec Producer of ScreenDog Productions. "Every retirement home we feature is different, but they all complement each other and are all truly luxurious. The Ridge felt like it would stand out for people particularly interested in wellness, sports, and the great outdoors."

Diane Macheers, Vice President of Corporate Communications for The Ridge Senior Living, expressed pride in the recognition. "It is such an honor to be recognized as one of the world's most luxurious senior living communities. But what was even more important to us was that the team from London found our residents to be inspiring, fun-loving, and full of vitality. That is the kind of life we want to promote at The Ridge Senior Living, and we believe that came through so completely in the production."

ScreenDog Productions, known for its audacious formats and unique perspectives, has previously produced notable programs such as Channel 4's recent hit "The Jury: Murder Retrial" and BBC's "Stacey Dooley: Stalkers."

While the documentary has aired in the UK, plans for a U.S. broadcast are yet to be announced, but the trailer for the show is here.
