

Bingham & Taylor Welcomes Kevin Jehl as New Chief of Commercial to Drive Growth and Innovation

CULPEPER, VIRGINIA, UNITED STATES, June 11, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Bingham & Taylor, renowned for its industry-leading solutions in underground utility access, is excited to announce the appointment of Kevin Jehl as Chief of Commercial. In this pivotal role, Kevin will steer the company's sales teams, marketing, and product development initiatives as it continues to innovate within the utility sector.

With an impressive career spanning several decades, Jehl has demonstrated exceptional leadership and expertise in water infrastructure, with a notable focus on both manufacturing and distribution. His experience includes transformative roles at Advanced Drainage Systems (ADS) and Fortiline, where he was instrumental in leading sales strategies and market development initiatives that significantly enhanced business growth.

"We are thrilled to have Kevin join our team. His extensive background and forward-looking approach are key to our strategic goals," said Laura Grondin, President and CEO of Bingham & Taylor. "Kevin's leadership will be invaluable as we continue to expand our presence and deliver superior solutions in the utility access market."

Jehl's strategic vision is anticipated to play a critical role in driving Bingham & Taylor forward, emphasizing innovative product development and expanding market reach. His deep understanding of the industry's challenges and opportunities aligns with Bingham & Taylor's commitment to providing high-quality, durable solutions to its clients.

About his new role, Jehl commented “Bingham & Taylor has a rich history of quality, integrity, and providing innovative solutions to our business partners and customers. I’m honored to join the team and excited to continue our mission to be the premier provider of utility access solutions.”
