SentencingStats.com Inc. Receives $150,000 Azure grant increase from Microsoft for Startups Founders Hub

SentencingStats.com, a leading provider of federal sentencing analytics and artificial intelligence solutions for sentencing analysis, has been awarded a Level 4 startup grant from Microsoft for Startups Founders Hub, a global Microsoft accelerator that helps early-stage companies scale their businesses.

“

This increased support will significantly accelerate our product roadmap, enabling us to develop large-scale AI models, interactive reports, and case-management tools for our growing client base.”

Darren Kramer

The grant, valued at approximately $200,000, includes $150,000 in Azure credits, $2,500 in Open AI credits, 50 Microsoft 365 Business Premium seats, 10 Power BI and Power Platform Pro seats, Co-Pilot Pro, and various other data, cloud and AI technologies. Additionally, SentencingStats.com will gain increased access to Microsoft’s startup network of over 1,000 business and technology advisors, offering one-on-one consultations in technology, AI, business strategy, finance, operations, and marketing.

“When we received our Level 3 grant in January, we had no idea what an amazing partner Microsoft would become,” said Darren Kramer, CEO of SentencingStats.com. “This program and their team of experts have provided transformative technical guidance, infrastructure and tools.

We've been able to enhance our data warehouses, launch multiple AI models, revolutionize our reporting system, and bring several products to market ahead of schedule. This increased support will significantly accelerate our product roadmap, enabling us to develop large-scale AI models, interactive reports, and case-management tools for our growing client base of private attorneys and Federal defenders."

This grant not only advances SentencingStats.com's technical and strategic goals but also brings the company closer to realizing its social justice initiative, which aims to quantify biases in the court system at both the district and judge levels.

The image shows the SentencingStats.com logo at the top, featuring a stylized bar chart with an upward arrow inside a circle. Below the logo is the text "SentencingStats.com" in a large, bold, blue font, followed by the tagline "the source for sentencing data and analysis" in a smaller, grey font. Underneath is the text "Sentencing Stats Logo". The main part of the image is a laptop displaying the "Federal Sentencing Analytics Platform" interface. The screen shows a "Case Report" for "U.S. v Smith, 16-124". The interface includes a navigation bar with "HOME", "CONTACT US", and "REPORTS", along with "DASHBOARD", "My Account", and "Sign Out" options. The main content area is titled "Case Report: U.S. v Smith, 16-124" and features a "Median Sentences" chart. The chart displays data for three months: 09/12, 09/11, and 09/10. For each month, there are three bars representing "National", "Circuit", and "District" categories. A horizontal line indicates a "Target Sentence = 24 (US Sentencing Guidelines)". Annotations show "Required Sentence = 36 (US Sentencing Guidelines)" for 09/12 and "Target Sentence = 24 (US Sentencing Guidelines)" for 09/11. The legend at the bottom of the chart identifies the colors: National (orange), Circuit (blue), and District (grey).
