BREAKING NEWS ON CAMP LEJEUNE SETTLEMENT:

An expedited elective settlement program has been introduced by the U.S. government, offering payouts of up to $550,000 to eligible claimants.

This program aims to provide compensation significantly sooner than the traditional settlement payments, which are not expected until after the settlement claim deadline of August 10th, 2024.

Under the PACT Act, U.S. military veterans who have suffered from cancer or serious illnesses due to exposure to contaminated water at Camp Lejeune are now eligible for compensation. This legislation provides new avenues for affected individuals to receive the financial support they are entitled to.

Support Available:

- Free Case Review: Get a no-cost evaluation of your case.
- Cash Advances on Settlements: Eligible claimants can receive a cash advance on their settlement. More information on cash advances is available: <https://zumazip.com/camp-lejeune-update>

- Widespread Impact: Over a million Marines, Sailors, civilian workers, and their families were exposed to toxic water at Camp Lejeune between 1953 and 1987. Individuals stationed at the base for more than 30 days during this period may qualify for financial compensation under the PACT Act.

- Eligibility and Compensation: Even individuals previously denied disability benefits may now qualify for compensation or pension benefits. The PACT Act provides opportunities for back pay, settlement monies, and future compensation or pension payments.
- Settlement Program Details: Eligible claimants can receive up to $550,000 through the elective option program before the August 24 settlement deadline. The settlement process involves three entities: the Torts Branch, the DOJ, and the Navy.

Current Settlement Status: As of today, thirty-one settlement offers have been accepted by plaintiffs, including:
