

Confience Continues Buildout of its Modern LIMS Platform with the Addition of Computing Solutions, Inc.

RALEIGH, NORTH CAROLINA, UNITED STATES, June 14, 2024

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Confience, formed in early 2024 through the merger of Accelerated Technology Laboratories and Quality Systems International, has announced the acquisition of Computing Solutions, Inc., provider of the LabSoft LIMS product. This addition, supported by continued financial backing from STG, represents a significant milestone in Confience's growth and development, especially within two of its key focus industries: chemical and food & beverage. It also enhances the combined company's ability to provide more automated and intuitive solutions to both its current laboratory and quality team customers, as well as future customers who will benefit from ongoing investments in product and service delivery.

We are pleased to welcome CSI to the Confience family. With our common shared values and commitment to customer satisfaction, we foresee great results from this combined team.”

Confience*

The extended team's proven experience in building software companies with a focus on customer value further positions Confience to accelerate product development and expand market reach. “We are pleased to welcome CSI to the Confience family” said Patrick Quinlan, CEO of Confience. “With our common shared values and commitment to customer satisfaction, we foresee great results from this combined team.”

Leading the Way in LIMS Innovation

Confience's innovative Laboratory Information Management System (LIMS) solutions streamline laboratory and quality management processes. With its state-of-the-art software, lab and quality managers can collect, analyze, and report data with precision and efficiency. Its intuitive functionality automates workflows, freeing laboratory and quality managers from manual data entry, allowing them to focus on delivering reliable data that customers and stakeholders can trust. CSI's LabSoft offers similar features and functionality and will add depth and breadth to Confience's LIMS offerings.

"Here at CSI, we are immensely proud of the foundation we have laid. Joining Confience offers exciting opportunities to refine our operations and magnify our influence in the laboratory informatics industry" said Stuart Perigo of CSI. "We are also excited to have found a partner for our next chapter of growth who shares our core values and focus on the customer."

"We feel that joining Confience will continue our legacy of superior service to our customers. We're eager to contribute to the future growth of the platform" said Brenda Perigo of CSI.
