It's a fully circular juncture for our family; working with my sons on this project is such a milestone moment as the very reason for the invention of the game-changing DockATot 18 years ago.”

‘It's a fully circular juncture for our family; working with my sons on this project is such a milestone moment as the very reason for the invention of the game-changing DockATot 18 years ago, my sons, now are working alongside me.’ – Lisa Furuland Kotsianis

DockAPet create pet docks, like Lisa's original dock, but thoughtfully designed for our four-legged loves and their style-conscious owners. ‘When my mum designed the baby dock, it was because she couldn't find what she needed for me, so she made it herself. We couldn't find a bed for our rescue dogs Gray and Bruno that we felt was comfortable enough whilst still fitting the décor of our home, so taking a leaf out of mum's book, we decided to create our own.’ – Ilias Furuland Kotsianis

DockAPet's premier collection consists of 4 sizes of docks, catering to creatures big and small, across 10 colourways, in 2 luxurious yet durable fabrics. A choice of a canvas or velvet finishes, DockAPet docks are exuberantly plush filled with highly hygienic, antimicrobial and breathable staple fibres, creating comfortable spaces for your beloved pets, whilst ensuring vet-approved orthopaedic support necessary for optimal rest and relaxation.

A collaboration with English illustrators George and Raphael Greaves, who have collaborated with the likes of Hermès inter alia, completes the collection with the notable leopard illustration, printed on lustrous velvet, drawing inspiration from antiquity; a chic and on point inclusion, affirming DockAPet's dedication to fashion and style.

DockAPet products are made in Europe from superior materials. DockAPet's core principles truly are a manifestation of form and function; of style and aesthetic excellence combined with functionality, durability and health benefits. It's a sweet marriage between utility and beauty. From our family to yours.
