

SHATTR Launches Immersive Leadership Experience for Aspiring Executive Women

NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES, June 18, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- SHATTR proudly announces its official launch as the premier membership network and immersive leadership experience designed specifically for women aspiring to senior leadership roles.

The SHATTR experience features small group cohorts led by International Coach Federation (ICF) PCC credentialed Executive Coaches. Alongside the intimate learning groups, members benefit from a vast network of professional women, direct access to and discussions with C-Suite leaders, learning circles, and more, all conveniently accessible through the SHATTR app. "At SHATTR, we have one goal: to support women on their path to executive leadership," said SHATTR Co-Founder MJ O'Leary. "Our curriculum, developed by experts in learning design, utilizes assessments and interactive opportunities to ensure concepts take root and lead to meaningful growth."

SHATTR employs a "LEARN-TRY-APPLY" approach, where members are guided through monthly challenges by their coach. This method helps members develop and apply essential executive skills. "We are lifting up early-stage career women who aspire to the executive ranks. By giving our members access to an Executive Coach and a cohort of women to share in their leadership development journey, they go further, faster," said Jenny Fenig, one of SHATTR's Founding Executive Coaches.
