Brian Forrester announces the release of his newest young adult novel, Color The Sky With Song. The book launches as an ebook on June 19, 2024, and in paperback on July 10, 2024.

About the Book:

14-year-old Lucy longs to escape the dreary town of Nether. Burdened by unloving parents and a soul-crushing job in a magnet factory, she dreams of a better life beyond the mountains. But when she finally escapes with the help of her grandfather, she uncovers secrets that upend everything she was raised to believe.

As Lucy and a friend embark on a journey to find the two powerful forces who control the outside world, she finds herself in the middle of a cosmic clash between good and evil, with the souls of those she loves hanging in the balance.

With the storytelling of a Pixar movie, the whimsy of Narnia, and the mind-bending concepts of The Matrix, the story pulls readers into a world that reflects the eternal tug-of-war between light and darkness.
