

Recruitment Mastery: Talentuch Introduces Webinars for HR Leaders and Business Owners

Talentuch launches educational webinars for recruitment managers, HR directors, and decision-makers in the IT industry across Europe, Canada, and the USA.

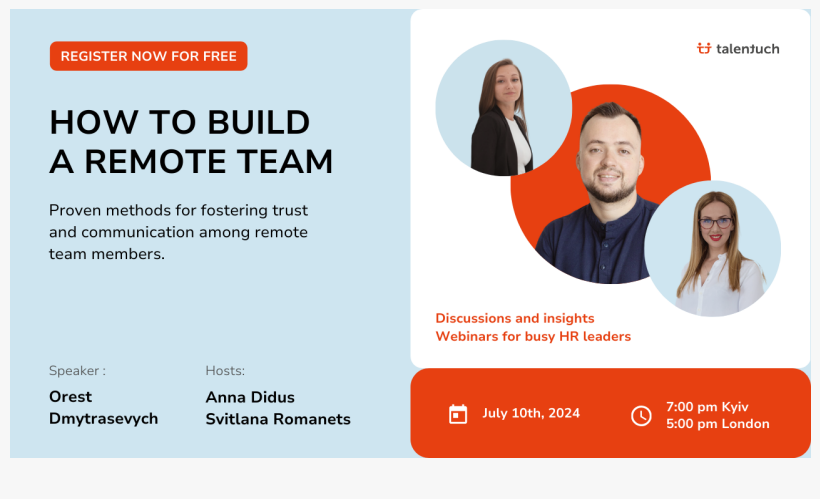

PRAGUE, CZECH REPUBLIC, June 19, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Talentuch LLC is excited to announce the launch of a series of educational webinars tailored for recruitment managers, HR directors, and decision-makers in the IT industry across Europe, Canada, and the USA.

The IT industry faces unique challenges, particularly for small companies where a single HR professional often manages all recruitment tasks. According to a report by SHRM, 37% of small IT companies operate with only one HR professional. This creates a significant burden, especially considering the competitive landscape for IT talent.

Research by Deloitte highlights the primary pains for small companies in hiring IT talent: the scarcity of qualified candidates, high competition from larger firms, and the fast-paced evolution of required skills. These challenges are exacerbated by the increasing number of open IT positions. As of 2023, there were over 1.4 million unfilled IT jobs in the USA alone, with an average time-to-fill of 49 days according to CompTIA.
