PBK's success lies in its ability to maximize sales through various revenue streams, including dine-in, carry-out, delivery, app and online ordering, and catering services. Since its inception in 2009, PBK has been on a mission to revolutionize fast fuel by offering shakes, salads, wraps, and bowls packed with protein and flavor. About Protein Bar & Kitchen: Protein Bar & Kitchen (PBK) Considered a pioneer of the better-for-you, protein-focused fast-casual concepts, Protein Bar & Kitchen's roots go back to 2009 when a big idea was launched out of a small storefront in downtown Chicago. Frustrated by a lack of dining options catering to a vital, active lifestyle, founder Matt Matros had a vision: instead of fast food, he would serve “fast fuel” -- delicious, nutritious, protein-packed shakes. The menu was later expanded to include a complete selection of high-protein salads, wraps, and bowls customizable for all diets – something for every BODY. Fourteen years later, Protein Bar & Kitchen continues to innovate with new protein-packed delicious shakes and menu items and is on its way to opening numerous locations through franchising.
