Enhancing Website Accessibility - Key Elements

Elite Site Optimizer's New Accessibility Features

Website accessibility is not just a legal requirement; it's a moral responsibility."

Krish Govindaraj - CEO

Websites are considered accessible when they ensure that the content is accessible to all, the information is comprehensible and usable by people with disabilities, and the navigation is seamless without layout or navigation disorientation.

The WCAG (Web Content Accessibility Guidelines) 2.1 and the ADA (Americans with Disabilities Act) cover a vast range of recommendations for webmasters to make web content more accessible to all. Section 508 is a US law that requires federal agencies to make their websites and digital products accessible for those with disabilities.

The WCAG has three conformance levels - Level A, AA, and AAA. These levels establish standards for web content, making it perceivable, operable, understandable, and robust for all users. By adhering to the WCAG AA or AAA standards, your website will be equipped to meet accessibility regulations and ensure equitable access for all users.

The new accessibility reporting capabilities of Elite Site Optimizer are a boon for webmasters and government website administrators to audit their websites and implement its recommendations to ensure the website reaches a wider audience. In addition to assisting legal compliance, it makes the website accessible to persons with disabilities.
