"We are pleased to continue our partnership with an excellent UK team like Lucas Blantford Racing, which we are proud to have continued to sponsor over the years in which we have witnessed a lot of excitement and winning awards and championships," Mr. George Matharu said.

The VDCT has been created to reach out to help the materially under-privileged and suffering people in our society and to establish practical and consistent support – both financially and materially – to create a better standard of living for them.

The trust has been supporting and sponsoring the education of children, supporting orphanages, old age homes, hospitals, and daycare centres for the poor and destitute in and around Chennai.

Indian racing champion and television presenter, Mr. Karun Chandhok, wrote on the carnival's official website "Every year, teams from all across the UK participate to raise money for educating underprivileged children through our family run charity, The Vishnu Devananda Charitable Trust in India. This will be our fourteenth consecutive year of running the event and the support over the years has been critical for the Trust to carry out their activities."
