

Southwest Pipe Services Adds New Talent Caleb Moderski Amid 20-Year Milestone : Welcoming Caleb Moderski

*Southwest Pipe Services Expanding
Services and Personnel*

ALVIN, TX, UNITED STATES, June 25, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Southwest Pipe Services (SWP), a leading environmental solutions provider specializing in mechanical pipe coating removal, proudly celebrates over two decades of excellence in the industry. As part of its ongoing commitment to growth and innovation, SWP is thrilled to announce the addition of Caleb Moderski to its expanding team.

Caleb Moderski, born and raised in Katy, Texas, is a recent graduate of Texas A&M University. He majored in University Studies of Architecture with minors in Urban Planning and Agricultural Economics. With his father's nearly 30-year tenure in the oil and gas industry as a source of inspiration, Caleb is eager to follow in his footsteps. In his spare time, Caleb enjoys traveling, spending time with family and friends, watching Aggie sports, cooking, and engaging in hunting and fishing. Caleb expressed his excitement about joining the SWP team, saying, "I am thrilled to be a part of Southwest Pipe Services and look forward to learning and growing professionally in this industry."

About Southwest Pipe Services:

Southwest Pipe Services, Inc. (SWP) is an environmental service company specializing in the mechanical removal of pipe coatings. Our services are performed for many clients in the oil and gas, petrochemical, and energy industries. We can perform these services at our Alvin, TX, or Winfield, KS facilities. Southwest Pipe Services can even mobilize to a client's job site or facility and perform cleaning services on-site. Many of the coatings we remove are classified as regulated waste by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), (pipelines) containing asbestos (ACM) and Polychlorinated Biphenyls \(PCBs remediation\). SWP handles the removal of these coatings as specified by all local, state, and federal regulating agencies.
