The market is expected to continue its robust growth, reaching $87.47 billion by 2028 with a CAGR of 16%.

Factors fueling this expansion include the rollout and adoption of 5G networks, escalating data consumption, heightened security concerns, integration of artificial intelligence and automation in voice services, and growing demand for international voice services.

The surge in remote work is also a significant contributor to market growth. As more employees embrace hybrid or fully remote work models, the demand for seamless international communication infrastructure provided by wholesale voice carriers intensifies. This trend not only supports productivity but also enhances work-life balance among employees.
