COEUR D'ALENE, ID, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
June 27, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- 93-year-old Korean Veteran Chuck Roeth long held the vision of seeing his mother's dream of becoming a published author come true. His mother, the late Margaret Morrison Roeth, was an exceptional artist and the story she wrote takes us back to a gentler time.

Mister Deedle's Tree House is a delightful and whimsical story that invites readers into the magical world of Mister Deedle. The adventures in his extraordinary tree house captivate the imagination.
This charming book's engaging storytelling and enchanted illustrations celebrate the joys of childhood, friendship, and creativity. It's a perfect read for children and a nostalgic journey for adults.

Margaret wrote and illustrated Mister Deedle's Tree House in 1948, and Chuck ensured its publication in April of 2024.

"I just wanted to make sure it got published while I could," said Roeth.

Publishing Mister Deedle's Tree House was a labor of love, honoring my mother's incredible talent and passion for storytelling.”
