operations, complex case management, quality and outcome-based strategy execution, value-based care modelling, digital health technology implementation, and integrating physical and behavioral health. Dr Vishal Gupta's research interests involve chronic complications of diabetes, particularly diabetic neuropathy, diabetic foot complications, diabetic kidney disease and cardiovascular disease, and novel technologies for treating type 2 diabetes.

With the latest foray into the world of wellness, Dr. Vishal Gupta kick started his dream of providing advantage to patients all around. The advantage of holistic care in diabetes, thyroid and endocrine disorders, the advantage of personalized and specialized treatment, the advantage of in house exercise and fitness regimens, the advantage of specialized services like foot care, eye care, diabetic cafeteria etc. to name just a few. In fact, its advantage all around, the biggest being the stellar leadership and compassionate care provided by Dr. Vishal Gupta himself. This is the new realm of diabetes, thyroid and endocrine care and this is your chance to experience the advantage.

After returning for the UK having trained at the prestigious North-East Thames London Group of Hospital 'St Bart's & Royal London NHS Trust & securing the MRCP (UK) degree in 2007, Dr Vishal Gupta envisioned the opening of a holistic under one-roof diabetes, thyroid & endocrine center which eventually took shape in 2014. Since then the center services more than 14,000 patients per year. His motto has been 'gifting life'. In order to achieve that vision he has lead research from the fore-front that has helped alter existing guidelines and treatment protocols in order to improve patient quality of life/longevity. He wrote a book called "beyond type 2 diabetes" in 2020 which summarises his research and understanding of diabetes addressing difficult to manage conditions like diabetes and infections/immunity/cancer/heart & kidney disease and most of all
