

HMP Global earns 2024 Great Place To Work Certification

Recognition is based solely on positive feedback about workplace culture, employee experience, and strength of company leadership.

MALVERN, PENNSYLVANIA, UNITED STATES, June 27, 2024

/EINPresswire.com/ -- HMP Global, the omnichannel leader in healthcare events, education, and market insights, today announced its designation as a 2024 Great Place To Work, the definitive corporate recognition based entirely on what employees report about their workplace culture.

Great Place To Work Certifications recognize employers who create an outstanding employee experience. Certification is dependent on employee feedback and independent analysis, and the designation helps job seekers identify which companies genuinely offer a great company culture.

Great Place To Work Certification is recognized internationally by employees and employers alike and is the global benchmark for identifying and recognizing outstanding employee experience.

This recognition affirms the work we do internally to create a positive, supportive environment for our employees that makes our company thrive.”

Jeff Hennessy, Chairman and CEO, HMP Global

This year, 91% of HMP Global employees said new employees are made to feel welcome and that people care about each other at the company, and 94% are comfortable with their level of responsibility. Overall, 75% of employees at HMP Global say it is a great place to work, compared to 57% of employees at a typical U.S.-based company.

“This recognition affirms the work we do internally to create a positive, supportive environment for our employees that makes our company thrive,” said Jeff recruiting advantage by providing a globally recognized and research-backed verification of great employee experience.”

Headquartered in Pennsylvania, HMP Global also operates offices in New Jersey and Germany and produces nearly 500 conferences and educational events virtually and in-person throughout the United States and the world. Among its retention efforts, HMP Global hosts in-person networking events for employees multiple times a year and offers both live and virtual management training programs to help employees grow and develop leadership skills. Its record of employee retention is strong, with a 7-year average length of service.

“When a company culture is positive, when workers feel supported and encouraged to thrive, you see more overall success as a company,” said Anthony Mancini, HMP Global Chief Human Resources Officer and EVP of Operations. “We are proud to have a low turnover rate, a culture of innovation, and continued growth as a company. The Great Place To Work designation further quantifies that we are an employer of choice.”

Great Place To Work Certification is recognized internationally by employees and employers alike and is the global benchmark for identifying and recognizing outstanding employee experience. It is one of multiple honors HMP Global has earned in recent years based on employee feedback, including seven Top Workplaces awards in 2023 and 2024, at the local, regional, and national levels.
