One Line Studio

One Line Studio's recognition by the A' Design Award holds significant relevance for the architecture industry and its stakeholders. The design's innovative approach to space utilization, environmental sensitivity, and aesthetic appeal sets a new standard for contemporary architectural practices. By showcasing the potential for harmonious integration between structure and nature, One Line Studio inspires architects, designers, and clients alike to explore more sustainable and visually striking design solutions.

One Line Studio captivates with its striking form, featuring a canted, naturally rusted steel wall anchoring one end of the structure, while a thin roof edge ascends toward the sky, framing a glazed expanse. Vertical cedar fins, arranged according to the Fibonacci sequence, soften glare and echo the surrounding native grasses, seamlessly grounding the translucent facade into the terrain. The interior atmosphere is delineated by a timber wall and a curtain of suspended glass, creating a delicate threshold between inside and outside.

The Golden A' Design Award for One Line Studio serves as a testament to Tim Politis and his team's unwavering commitment to pushing the boundaries of architectural design. This recognition is expected to inspire future projects that prioritize innovation, sustainability, and the harmonious integration of built structures with their natural surroundings. As One Line Studio sets a new benchmark for excellence, it motivates the team at Tim Politis to continue their pursuit of groundbreaking design solutions.

One Line Studio was brought to life through the collaborative efforts of a talented team. Lead Architect Tim Politis spearheaded the project, with Eric Dernbach as Project Manager and Kent Bentley as Architectural Designer. Vitali Stanila contributed to the project's architectural graphics, while Indra Tjaja served as a Reviewer. Charlene Seckler managed operations, and Christianna Politis acted as the Design Facilitator.
