

Fenix Lighting Introduces the Fenix TK05R Tactical EDC Flashlight

Long-Distance Beam in a Compact Design

DENVER, COLORADO, UNITED STATES, June 27, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Fenix Lighting is proud to announce the launch of the new Fenix TK05R Tactical EDC Flashlight, a powerful and compact lighting solution designed for tactical and everyday carry (EDC) use. This innovative flashlight is engineered to deliver an impressive long-distance throw, providing reliable performance for a wide range of applications.

Product Highlights:

*Exceptional Beam Distance: The Fenix TK05R is capable of projecting a focused beam to almost 500 yards, delivering a maximum output of 1000 lumens. This makes it well-suited for situations requiring focused, long-range visibility.

Compact and Lightweight: Despite its compact size at 25% smaller than our standard tactical flashlight, the TK05R maintains an impressively powerful performance. Crafted to ensure effortless portability and optimal accessibility.

*Tactical Applications: With its intense beam, the TK05R excels as a backup light for police officers and other professionals who need reliable long-distance illumination.
